EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Karla Weyand on March 25, 2004. Claims 1-4, 6-11 and 13-18 have been allowed and re-numbered as claim 1-16. Non-elected claims 19, 20 and 22-42 have been cancelled.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 8, line 1, the word "A" was deleted and the phrase "An isolated" was inserted at the start of the claim. Also, the word "fully" was inserted before the word "complementary".

In claim 13, line 1, the word "host" was inserted before the word "cell".

In claim 15 line 1, the word "host" was inserted before the word "cell".

Pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Official Gazette notice dated March 26, 1996 (1184 O.G. 86), non-elected claims 17 and 18, directed to the process of using the patentable product, previously withdrawn from consideration as a result of a restriction requirement, are rejoined. Process claims 17 and 18 were rejoined and fully examined for patentability under 37 CFR 1.104. The claims have been allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The isolated nucleic acid molecule encoding a Rickettsia felis outer membrane protein having an amino acid sequence with 90% amino acid identity with SEQ ID NO:2 has been interpreted as a nucleic acid encoding a Rickettsia felis outer protein which retains an immunogenic epitope from SEQ ID NO:2. While the isolated nucleic acid sequence recited in claim 1 is not required to encode the exact sequence of SEQ ID NO:2 (due to 90% identity language), the fact that it is still encoding a Rickettsia felis outer protein implies that there is a functionality, i.e., an immunogenic epitope is retained.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
